

The Center for the Study of Religion and Society Presents

Race, Religion, and Black Lives Matter

R. Khari Brown
Associate Professor of Sociology
Wayne State University

Dr. R. Khari Brown is a sociology professor at Wayne State University and the President of the Society for the Scientific Study of Religion. His research explores how race impacts the relationship between religion and social-political behaviors and attitudes.

He is a co-investigator of National Politics Study, a bi-annual study that assesses American political attitudes and behaviors and religious life, funded by the Louisville Institute, the Issachar Fund, and the University of Michigan.

Monday, September 26, 2022
12:30 – 2:00 pm
B101 Jenkins Nanovic Halls

FOR MORE INFORMATION
PLEASE CONTACT THE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY AT 574-631-6463